During special adult evening class

Children teach their parents

By LYNNE LOCKE

Three mornings a week a classroom at Moreno School in Montclair looks like a nursery school. As 19 West End parents assist, 22 children play with blocks, read books or paint pictures.

But the adults are the students, enrolled in parent-child relationships, a class offered to West End residents by Chaffey Adult Evening School. Parents and children attend class together so that the adults can learn more about how children develop.

Parents can care for their children better when they understand that behavior results from the child's age and stage of development, noted teacher Frances Maxwell.

The evening class youngsters achieve better than other children when they enter school — parents are involved and learn how to help them grow at home, said Mrs. Maxwell.

And parents use their new knowledge to improve their own lives. Mrs. Maxwell commented. Several mothers got jobs as aides after their children began first grade.

Once a week parents have a discussion period when they see films and discuss such topics as dependency and independence. They also discuss behavior problems and solutions. One evening a month guest speakers discuss such topics as nutrition, family planning and hyperactive children.

The schedule for the children emphasizes both social and physical development. A normal class includes structured and unstructured play, snack time, art, music, sharing, rest time and story time.

Activities are geared to the age and development of each child. "I don't teach the alphabet," Mrs. Maxwell said. "When they are ready, they learn it."

Parents learn how to supervise children's activities. Mrs. Maxwell said, the main thing to remember is that the process of creating is more important than what the child makes.

It isn't always necessary to make "something," she noted. Instead of asking "What are you making?" parents should encourage children to work with textures, shapes and colors.

Children should be allowed to work out their own problems and experiment with different ways of doing things. For instance, parents should let the child figure out for him- or herself how to fit blocks into a truck. But if the child asks for help, the parent should respond, Mrs. Maxwell added.

Parents also learn that children need both freedom to develop and discipline. Discipline isn't a punishment but a "favor," Mrs. Maxwell noted. The most important thing is for the parent to be consistent so the child can develop trust.

Parents should set as few rules as possible, but always enforce the ones they set. In the classroom, children must sit at the table to eat their snacks. A few get up, Mrs. Maxwell said, but a parent always brings the child back to the table.

She advises parents to give their children responsibility at home for little things they can do themselves. In the classroom, children put away toys after play sessions and each day a different child collects trash after snack time.

Mrs. Maxwell said, "All the principals have been so helpful" in letting classes meet throughout the district. But we

West End political wrap-up

Victor Veysey, Jim Lloyd seek office

Ayala, Marcus, Clark

35th Congressional District

Candidates for the U. S. House of Representatives in the 35th district are Republican Victor Veysey, and Democrat Jim Lloyd. Upland, Montclair, Cucamonga and Alta Loma are included in the 35th district.

Veysey represented the Imperial Valley in the California legislature for eight years and in the House of Representatives four years. When districts were reapportioned, he chose to run in the 35th and has been named the incumbent.

Veysey, who has been an engineer and an educator, owns a 1,000-acre farm in Imperial Valley where he grows sugar beets, cotton and feed crops. He supports harnessing geothermal and solar energy to solve the energy problem. He has supported vocational education for high school students and has authored an amendment requiring that educational programs be evaluated each year before new funds are appropriated.

Working to end deficit spending in Congress, Veysey was named "Watchdog of the Treasury" and "Outstanding Friend of Small Business."

Jim Lloyd, mayor of West Covina, served in the U. S. Navy for 21 years and is co-owner of Lloyd's Public Relations with his wife Jackie. Lloyd supports stopping inflation by cutting government waste, controlling big business and raising taxes not based on property. He sponsored a local conference on the energy crisis which received testimony from more than 400 area residents. He believes oil, gas and nuclear power must be administered for the benefit of all people. He said citizens must accept only elected officials who show the highest personal integrity.

Three candidates for state Senate

Candidates for the 32nd state Senate District, which encompasses Upland, Montclair, Cucamonga and Alta Loma, are Democratic incumbent Ruben S. Ayala, Republican John R. Marcus and Ray Clark, American Independent party.

A veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps and former Chino mayor, Ayala was elected to the state Senate in a special election in January 1974.

He proposes to control inflation by cutting unneeded state projects and supports revising the property tax structure so that no school district lacks necessary finances.

He said all tax loopholes must be closed and specific relief provided to property owners, heads of households, single people and senior citizens who do not have large incomes. Ayala also supports stronger statewide crime prevention programs and increased training of law enforcement personnel.

John R. Marcus, a California native, is a San Bernardino attorney and businessman in San Bernardino, Lake Arrowhead and El Monte.

He is a member of California

State Bar, American Bar Association, San Bernardino Bar Association, California Trial Lawyers Association, Law Science Institute of America and Lawyer Pilots' Bar Association.

Marcus is an arbitrator for the American Arbitration Association and has been admitted to the U.S. District Court and U.S. Supreme Court. His positions on issues were not available at press time.

Ray Clark, manager of a wholesale grocery store, has been a San Bernardino resident for 25 years. Because inflation is caused by the high rate of government spending, Clark said, the size of government must be limited and more functions performed at the state and local levels.

Clark said the rising crime rate can be controlled only if the judiciary stops legislating by interpreting laws and begins handing out the judgments that are due.

He supports providing technical high schools for students who do not plan to attend college and said unnecessary school programs should be cut.

VanderPoel, McVittie, Vogel

65th Assembly seat sought by three men

Competing for the 65th state Assembly seat, which represents Montclair and Upland, are Republican Pete VanderPoel, Democrat Bill McVittie and Bill Vogel, American Independent party.

VanderPoel, a Chino dairy owner, has worked for two years as field representative for Assemblyman John Briggs. He has proposed a six-point program designed to decrease crime by speeding up the justice process and insuring that repeat offenders are not simply released into the community.

He also supports fighting inflation by operating government on sound business principles of economy and efficiency. VanderPoel supports property tax relief for senior citizens and repeal of the California Inventory Shelf Tax which adversely affects small businesses while large businesses avoid the tax.

Upland resident Bill McVittie is a city attorney and has been a law enforcement officer. He supports curbing crime, improving public educational and environmental quality. He also advocates tax reform and protection of consumer rights.

McVittie said state government should be honest and responsive to citizens and that legislators must be independent of special interests.

Bill Vogel of Ontario is a self-employed businessman. The basic solution to solving inflation, Vogel said, is to limit government spending, eliminate wasteful practices and encourage private enterprise.

He would encourage consumer confidence by making the corporate system responsible to consumers and would lower interest rates. Vogel strongly opposes wage and price controls "because interference ends in economic disaster."

Increase in crime is caused by permissiveness of court officials, he said. There are enough laws to control crime but they must be enforced. Vogel supports control of pollution but every ecology bill must be considered for its long-range effects.

66th State Assembly

Wolfinbarger and Goggin in race

Candidates for the 66th state Assembly District, which includes Cucamonga and Alta Loma, are Democrat Terry Goggin and Republican Tamara Wolfinbarger.

Goggin, a San Bernardino lawyer, has worked as administrative assistant to Rep. George E. Brown Jr. He supports enforcement of antitrust laws to increase competition and lower prices.

Goggin also supports environmental and consumer interests. He would encourage replacement of internal combustion engines by substitutes using cleaner fuels.

Tamara Wolfinbarger is secretary-treasurer of a Fontana trucking company and president of the Fontana Republican Women.

Stating that inflation is caused by monopolies and excess government spending, she said gasoline service stations should be owned and operated independently of oil companies.

She also noted that state legislature spending has increased by three times in the last few years but the legislature is no longer audited by independent auditing firms.

Planners recommend special zone change

An environmental assessment report regarding a pre-zone change from county manufacturing to a special zoning designation in Upland was accepted last week by Upland planners who recommended approval of the pre-zone to the city council.

Involved is property in unincorporated territory of the county on the south side of Foothill Boulevard, with its west boundary about 1,073 feet east of the centerline of Central Avenue. Only 0.7 acres is involved in the recommendation for an SP zone in anticipation of incorporation into the city.

The pre-zone change, if approved by the council, would become effective with the condition that the parcel is annexed to the city.

The area is currently being used for a water storage tank and well by the city, is uninhabited and has recently been acquired by Upland.

West End sales declines

Sales volume in the West End fell with the rest of the state by more than 2.5 per cent compared to the second quarter in 1973.

Second-quarter taxable sales statewide totaled $1.1 billion more this year than last, but volume actually dropped, according to John W. Lynch, member of the State Board of Equalization.

The 7.3 per cent increase in dollar amounts of taxable sales was the smallest quarter-year gain since the spring of

The state figure for the period is more than $16.9 billion, taxable sales growth failed to keep pace with rising prices.

State sales and use tax collections for the period totaled $820.1 million while local sales and use taxes amounted to $222.4 million for a combined total of more than $1 billion.

This compares with a total of $813.7 million in total collections for the same period last year when the rate was one cent less on the dollar.

In San Bernardino County, tax payments for the quarter were nearly $560 million, including incorporated and unincorporated communities. The figure reflects a 6.4 per cent rise over last year.

Sales tax permits in the county numbered 16,072.

Among the West End cities, Ontario reflected the highest sales tax return with Montclair not far behind.

Ontario's total figure was nearly $39 million while Montclair showed a total of $35.3 million.

In Ontario, the largest category for sales tax revenue was restaurants and bars — a total figure of $3,438,000; while, in Montclair revenue came primarily from general merchandising stores — $12,119,000.

Ontario's tax return from its general merchandising stores was $1,990,000. Montclair's figure for a relatively small city reflects sales tax impact of the Montclair Plaza.

Other Ontario figures include: $840,000, apparel stores; $926,000, drug stores; $2,987,000, food stores; $725,000, liquor stores; $1,307,000, home furnishings and appliances; $2,206,000, building materials and farm implements; $8,671,000, auto dealers and auto supplies; $3,976,000, service stations; and $3,976,000 "other retail stores."

Planners ok mobile home park

A development concept dubbed "mobiliunum" found favor Thursday with the Upland Planning Commission which recommended approval of a conditional use permit for a 107-lot mobile home park.

To be called Lemonwood Villas, the mobile home development is planned for 19 acres on the north side of 14th Street, with its east boundary about 750-feet west of Mountain Avenue.

Applicant is Paul R. Nordberg of a San Marino firm. Upland's environmental assessment committee determined that total effect upon the environment will not be significantly detrimental and staff recommended commission approval.

Nordberg, who lives in Pasadena, told commissioners many of the lemon trees will be saved in the subdivision, which he said will be controlled in design as well as color.

Prior to approval, commissioners tagged onto 19 conditions recommended by the staff a 20th condition requiring an annual inspection fee of $15 to check the condition of mobile homes.

The plan shows green belts, storage areas and three swimming pools for residents of the "mobiliunum."

Planners felt the proposal was the "best possible use for the property." Now, it will be up to the city council to make the final decision.

SERVICE AWARD — Alta Loma Postmaster Dale H. Hawkes presents a service award to Betty L. Domm. Mrs.

Domm retired in September after 29 years' service in the Alta Loma Post Office.

Former police chief is dead

Ralph H. Palmer, resident of Upland for 52 years and former Upland police chief, died Oct. 21 at San Antonio Community Hospital.

He worked in law enforcement for over 30 years starting in 1924 as deputy constable for Upland Township and then serving as special deputy sheriff for San Bernardino County.

In 1935, Palmer joined the Upland Police Department as a foot patrol officer, working his way through the ranks to police chief. He attained the rank of sergeant in 1939, lieutenant in 1943 and captain in 1945.

Palmer worked the night shift for 15 years until he became police chief in 1951. He served as chief until 1957. Palmer emphasized work with teenagers, saying it is better to work with juveniles before they become involved in crime.

During his years in law enforcement, Palmer saw a number of changes. He called the introduction of the two-way radio in the 1940s "a Godsend to all" because it enabled police to apprehend more criminals.

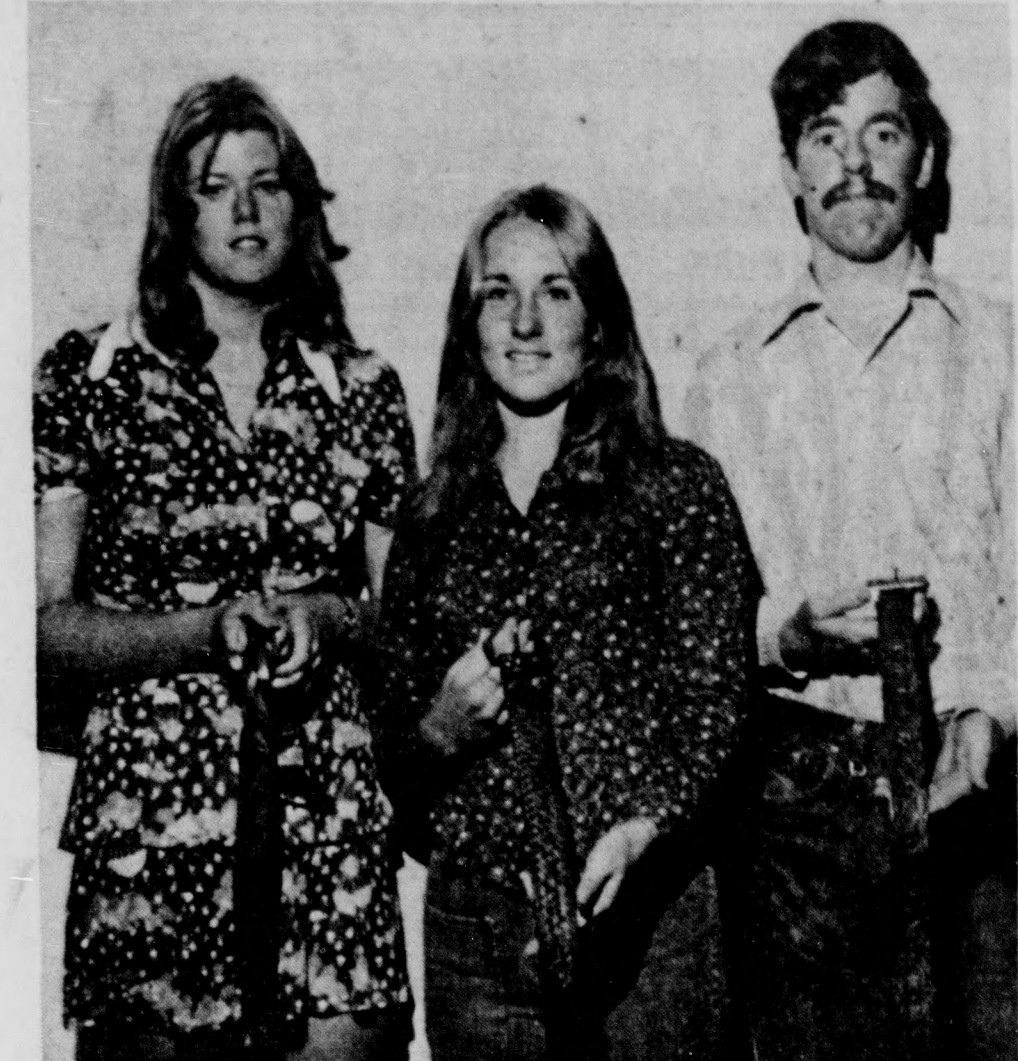

Before the two-way radio Upland police had to call the Pomona Police Department by phone, and then Pomona placed the call to patrol cars. Palmer said the department never knew if the patrol cars received the message since they were equipped only with receiving units.

But even that system was better than the earlier flashing light system when patrol cars were alerted to problems by flashing red lights placed on tail buildings.

Palmer was born in Marceline, Mo. March 26, 1899 and moved to California in 1911. He served in the U.S. Army in Germany from 1920-1922. Palmer was a member of Upland Lodge 419 of the Free and Accepted Masons and a former member of the Upland Lions Club.

He is survived by his wife Mattie; son Harold of Ontario; two daughters Betty Day of Upland and Anne Cometti of Alta Loma; a sister Nellie Clickenger of Montclair; six grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Oct. 24 at Stone Funeral Home followed by entombment at Bellevue Mausoleum. Dr. Rufus W. Oakey of the Presbyterian Church officiated. Palmer's family has requested memorial gifts be made to San Antonio Community Hospital Foundation, coronary unit.

Winning belts were displayed in the school library's show case for two weeks and at the school's open house. Judges were Stan Carpenter, Mary Moffat and Gladys Naftel.

HALLOWEEN PARTY — Magician Gary Teal will entertain Upland children aged four to eight tonight. Upland Recreation Department and Upland Breakfast Lions Club are sponsoring a Halloween party from 6:30 - 9 p.m. at the old Upland library. Free party also will include games, refreshments and costumes.

Teachers want to join search for president

A Chaffey College teachers' organization has asked to be included in all aspects of the school's search for a successor to retiring campus President T. Stanley Warburton.

Warburton has announced his retirement will be effective on June 30, 1975.

Charles Miller, president of the Chaffey College American Federation of Teachers, said his group is especially concerned that teachers be included in all interviews of applicants, including those conducted away from campus.

Miller said his request has been submitted in a letter to Herschel Glenn, chairman of the Chaffey Community College District Board of Trustees.

The board has already announced it will use an "open candidacy" approach in selecting Warburton's successor.

Reagan vetoed earlier proposal

Formation of regional smog board under study

A regional air pollution control district, a proposal which was vetoed by Gov. Ronald Reagan at the close of this year's legislative session, could be created within the next several months, according to a San Bernardino County supervisor.

Supervisor Dennis Hansberger of Yucaipa told the county board of supervisors Monday that the South Coast Air Basin Coordinating Council, a council with representation from Southern California counties, is considering formation of a regional air pollution control district without action by the state legislature.

The proposal, Hansberger said, was made by Los Angeles County Supervisor James Hayes.

According to Hansberger, Hayes' proposed regional APCD would operate the same way as the county APCDs, except that "we would have some of the emergency actions that we don't already have."

The monitoring of smog levels for the purpose of calling smog episodes would be uniform throughout the South Coast Air Basin under a regional APCD, Hansberger said. In the last several months, discrepancies have been revealed between the method Los Angeles County uses in measuring its smog and the way the rest of the basin calculates the ozone level.

Supervisor Daniel Mikesell of Ontario, although he is in favor of a regional APCD, was skeptical about the intentions of Los Angeles County in proposing a regional board. He said Los Angeles County has been "recalcitrant" in not conforming to the smog measuring methods of other Southern California counties.

Chaffey seeks attendance agreement

Chaffey Community College has renewed its offer to negotiate an inter-district attendance contract with Riverside Community College.

Dr. T. Stanley Warburton, superintendent-president here, considers such a contract vital to the needs of residents of the Corona-Norco Unified School District.

The offer is based on a proposal for an inter-district attendance agreement as a benefit to Corona-Norco students approved May 21 by the Chaffey Board of Trustees.

The action resulted from a request of the Riverside County Committee on School District Organization for Chaffey and Riverside to develop a Corona-Norco attendance agreement.

Neither the county committee nor Riverside Community College responded to the proposal, although Chaffey advised them of the board action on May 29.

"Ironically," Warburton pointed out, "the request was for us to work out an agreement that would protect the interests of students from the Corona-Norco district. You can't negotiate when there's no feedback."

In a letter that went out Oct. 22 to Foster Davidoff, his counterpart at Riverside, Warburton again attempted to open negotiations for an attendance pact.

Warburton stated in his letter that the reason for the pact is to assure Corona-Norco citizens "of continuity of instruction at the community college level."

The Warburton letter reviewed the Chaffey proposal and called for "similar action by the Riverside Community College Board of Trustees on your (Davidoff's) recommendation."

Chaffey's chief administrator asked for Riverside's "concurrence so that all may know before the Nov. 5 election how this important consideration will be resolved."

In the election ahead, voters of Corona-Norco will be asked to decide on whether or not their district will be annexed to Riverside.

Whatever the election outcome, Warburton wrote that an attendance agreement would demonstrate to Corona-Norco citizenry "that their educational welfare is paramount."

Urging like action by Riverside, Warburton cited the Chaffey proposal that:

— Students taking 6 semester units or less living in the Riverside Community College District or Chaffey Community College District be allowed to attend the community college district of their choice without obtaining a written permit.

— Students attending Chaffey College prior to effective annexation date be permitted to continue to complete their educational objective.

— Programs being conducted by the Riverside Community College District and Chaffey Community College District within the Corona-Norco Unified School District be continued with apportionment going to the college district providing instruction.

— This agreement be a continuing one beyond 1979, subject to termination with one year prior notice.

As for the election itself, Warburton had this comment for Corona-Norco voters:

"The only choice on the ballot is for or against annexation to Riverside. Whether this issue carries or fails, favorable response to the Chaffey proposal would at least give residents an additional option."

Upland planners will hear zoning requests

Two public hearings relating to zone changes, both to highway commercial supplemental designations, for two separate parcels were set for Nov. 26 by the Upland Planning Commission.

In one situation, planners themselves initiated the hearing to change a C-4 zone at the southeast corner of Mountain Avenue and Foothill Boulevard to C-4S, which requires a developer to go through the conditional use permit process before developing.

In the other case, a zone change requested by R.S. Wheeler Development Co., Inc., 500 W. Foothill, Claremont, sought at a recent meeting a zone change from agriculture to commercial highway development for 2.6 acre parcel on the east side of Mountain north of Foothill.

In the Wheeler request planners, on the recommendation of staff, will include in the zone change to the supplemental requirement the rest of the property which involves over five acres in all. A restaurant and a drive-in liquor store are already developed on the parcel to be contained in the package which may find its zoning changed to C-4 S.

A spokesman for Wheeler said she felt the small parcel can be developed to the advantage of the city and indicated plans were for Early California or Spanish-style commercial development.

Halloween party set

California Learning Centers of Cucamonga and Upland will hold a Halloween party for parents and students Thursday from 7 to 9:30 at 8736 Baker Ave., Cucamonga.

Each child is participating in some aspect of preparation, and parents will assist by manning game booths.

The annual party for the first time is open to the public. Further information is available by calling 965-3215.

High school seniors eligible

Soroptimists open Youth Citizenship Awards Contest

The Soroptimist Youth Citizenship Awards Contest now is open to all high school seniors living in the Chaffey Union High School District.

This includes all seniors in both public and private schools who will graduate in June of 1975 or earlier. The contest is sponsored locally by the Ontario Soroptimist Club and approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Applicants must have been active in community service, in school and have a good relationship with the family at home. Students will be judged on their dependability, leadership and the clear sense of purpose for their future.

Courtesy, cooperation and consideration for others also are important.

Applicants will be required to write the answers to three citizenship questions as applied to home, community and school. Each answer must not exceed 125 words. Letters of recommendation from three adults not related to the applicant are to be submitted with the application for judging.

Applications and information sheets are available from counselors in all the Chaffey District high schools. Additional applications and information may be obtained from Mrs. Robert Naftel, librarian at the Upland High School library.

Deadline for the applications is Dec. 13.

New bike equipment required

Bicycle equipment requirements will be upgraded by a new law which goes into effect Jan. 1, 1975, Capt. W. C. Jones, commander of the California Highway Patrol's Pomona area, said today.

The law calls for additional reflectors to improve night visibility of all bikes. A white reflector will be required on the front of the bike and a white or yellow reflector must be installed on each side forward of the center of the bicycle — usually a two-way reflector in the spokes. Also required will be a white or red reflector on each side to the rear of center. The side reflectors may be omitted if the bicycle is equipped with reflectorized tires, front and rear.

New reflectors are in addition to present requirements for a white light on the front, visible for 300 feet and a red reflector on the rear, also visible for 300 feet. The new law also permits a red lamp on the rear, visible for 300 feet.

Capt. Jaones said the law specifies that reflectorized tires or reflectors on the front, sides and rear of a bicycle must be visible from 500 feet and must be a type approved by the highway patrol.

Added safety provisions are necessary because the increased popularity of bicycles has also increased the number of bicycle accidents. In the local area, there have been 30 bicycle accidents resulting in no deaths and 30 injuries so far this year. The bike rider has always been the injured party.

Christian schools seek fund

The Ontario Christian School Association is conducting a $150,000 fund raising drive this week — national Christian Education Week.

The association operates Ontario Christian Elementary School, 1907 S. Euclid Ave., and Ontario Christian High School, 931 W. Philadelphia St.

Funds raised during the yearly drive will be used to pay off a $50,000 general fund deficit, a $50,000 debt reduction and other financial commitments.

George Groen, superintendent of Ontario Christian Schools, said plans are underway this school year to build an addition to the Ontario Christian High School gymnasium.

The association is comprised of parents who "are committed to the Calvinistic faith and believe strongly that parents are responsible for the rearing and training of their children," a school spokesman said.

As part of the Christian Education Week activities, an open house was held Tuesday at Ontario Christian Elementary School.

Likewise, a "Pledge Night" was held Monday evening at the high school.

Enrollment at the two schools currently stands at 710 students.

WHAT MY CAMPAIGN IS ALL ABOUT...

"I want State Government to take immediate steps to help the average family fight the high cost of living. This will take leaders who are willing, able and independent of special influences."

• INFLATION

BILL McVITTIE wants to stop big business lobbyists in Sacramento from pushing prices even higher. He will fight for new laws to make gasoline prices competitive and halt skyrocketing food costs.

• TAXES

BILL McVITTIE is an accountant and former tax attorney. He knows where the tax loopholes are and how to close them. He believes taxes should be based on a person's ability to pay. He wants to return the State budget surplus to the taxpayers.

• CRIME

BILL McVITTIE knows that burglary is an even crueler crime during economic hard times. Yet the number of residential breakins continue to soar. As a former federal law enforcement officer, Bill believes laws must be enforced to protect people and their property.

• SMOG

BILL McVITTIE doesn't want car owners paying the whole bill for the war on air pollution. He's chairman of the San Bernardino County Air Pollution Control District Hearing Board. Twice he's testified before the Legislature as an expert on smog control proposals.

• EDUCATION

BILL McVITTIE thinks it's a tragedy that a college education is now priced beyond the financial means of many average-income families. He's opposed to year-round school being forced on a District without a meaningful trial period. His stand for improved quality in the schools won him the endorsement of the State's biggest educator group.

Volunteers sought for special help projects

Usually one associates mission work with far off primitive peoples, but the First Presbyterian Church of Upland has two right in the West End. One is the Alta Loma Girls' Home established in August, 1972 which the church purchased and leased to the Good Samaritan Centers. The Centers provide house-parents, Win and John Nelson, who work to carry out the goal of the home, which is to help the six girls living there mature into responsible, caring human beings.

The other mission is the Shelter Care Inn in Ontario which opened early in July, 1974. Its purpose is to provide temporary placement of children from birth to 18 years of age. Houseparents there are John and Nancy Barnhill.

Until the opening of the "Inn" (named in reference to New Testament Inns) the only place West End juvenile officers could send non-delinquent children, taken or separated from their parents for various reasons, was to the dependency unit of Juvenile Hall.

As with any household, the physical and emotional needs of its occupants need to be met; and inside and outside maintenance and replacement of parts and furnishings must be achieved.

This is where the members of the First Presbyterian Church, and other interested residents, can actively participate in a local mission project.

One of the most urgent immediate needs is to provide clothing for both homes. Many children arrive with only the clothing they are wearing. Mrs. Harry (Marguerite) Courtney is chairman of the Emergency Clothes Closet Committee. The members will sort, tag and mend donated clothing. Clothing may be brought to the church; and Mrs. Courtney will gladly accept the help of any "nimble, thumble fingers."

Another urgent need is for a group of sitters at the "Inn" to relieve the houseparents there. Elaine Bell and Todd Harlan are co-chairing this committee and would appreciate husband-wife, wife-mother, mother/daughter and/or son, older/younger teams, as well as individuals, so that any one volunteer(s) would be called upon only once every three months.

The third urgent need is a group willing to be personally involved with the girls at the home. The girls are anxious to learn to make their own gifts; they'd like to learn crafts; and they'd love to go shopping with an adult for their own linens and room furnishings, providing donors can be found for these items. The original items of this nature are wearing out. The Nelsons, houseparents at the Home, feel that one way to teach responsibility is to provide items to be responsible for. The girls do help with household chores and take care of their own rooms and possessions. New possessions of their own choosing could do a lot to give a "pride of ownership" feeling.

Major household repairs are under the chairmanship of Ed Gephart.

Members of the church and interest West End residents who would like to become personally involved with the success of the homes; or those who would assist by providing clothing or other items, may receive more information by calling the church, 982-8811.

A pledge to missions held next Tuesday

A pledge to Missions service and election of officers for 1975 will be held Tuesday, Nov. 5, at 9:30 a.m. by the United Methodist Women, 3205 D St., La Verne, at the general meeting. Mrs. Norman Scott is in charge of a coffee hour slated to precede the meeting. Hospitality will be provided by members of Martha Circle, and Mrs. Thomas Taylor will be soloist.

"When I Needed a Neighbor" has been selected as the theme for the event. Mrs. Harvey Case has planned the pledge service at which members will respond by presenting pledges for next year.

Community day for world to be observed

The Bonita Unit of Church Women United of Claremont, La Verne and San Dimas will celebrate World Community Day on Friday, Nov. 1 at the United Methodist Church, 3205 D St. in La Verne. Mrs. A. E. Stoddard is in charge of the program at 10 a.m. following a fellowship coffee hour at 9:30 a.m.

Women of all churches are invited to participate in this united service on the theme, "Discover the Aspiring Majority." Women are now a majority in the world and are bound together by common aspirations. These aspirations are our values giving our lives purpose, and will be expressed by Chris Connelly, Ruth Fasnacht and Shirley Rude, according to a representative.

The United Nations passed a resolution designating 1975 as the International Women's

Year. The United States is the first country to issue such a national proclamation. Its stated goals are promotion of equality between men and women; full integration of women and recognizing women's contribution to peace.

World Community Day has been observed annually since 1943 with a strong emphasis on peace in the world. The theme for that year was "The Price Of Enduring Peace." "Progress has been made but peace continues to be the overriding issue of our time. Despite all differences of language, culture, background and beliefs, we must all strive to live together in peace, that together we may be builders of peace."

Mrs. Maude Scudder, vice president, will conduct a brief business session during which officers for 1975 will be elected. Marjorie Smith will explain the Nov. 17 "Walk For Hunger." Soloist is Dorothy Hall accompanied by Fanchon Binnall. Child care will be provided.

The featured speaker is Dr. Mari Sommerville, a resident of Pilgrim Place in Claremont. She was born in Calcutta, India, and attended the Isabella Thoburn College in Lucknow. She was later a faculty member and administrator of that college. She taught English and Math and was Head Mistress of Adams Girls School in the Himalaya Mountains. During Sabbaticals, she taught English Literature in New York and South Carolina. She has a graduate degree from the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque. She is now a volunteer reader for the Recording For the Blind in Claremont.

The World Community Day offering will go into the Intercontinental Mission fund through which women will have an opportunity to participate in social and economic development through special work projects in the Caribbean, Lebanon, Africa, United States and other areas.

$170,079 raised for charity

The West End United Way is 34 per cent closer to the goal of $500,500 according to a report at a recent cabinet meeting.

To date, $170,079 has been realized toward the support of the 29 agencies of the fund.

According to Richard E. Price, board president, $15,553 more funds have been raised than at the same point of last year's drive.

"I am confident the goal will be reached this year," Price said.

Boosting the funds was the corporate gift from Kaiser Steel in Fontana in the amount of $15,120.

Other reports made at the meeting were as follows: Division A, Dennis Shea, chairman, $102,912 or 39.5 per cent of goal; Division B, Lloyd Hutton, chairman, $28,552 or 35 per cent of goal; Division C, Gene Wood, chairman, $7,353 or 28 per cent of goal; Division D, Hal Snowden, chairman, $10,416 or 53 per cent of goal; Division E, Hank Russell, chairman and overall drive chairman, $15,420 or 21 per cent of goal; Division F, Ernest Wagner, chairman, $2,830 or 18 per cent of goal; and Division G, Penny Meyer, chairman, $2,596 or 15 per cent of goal.

Ralph Stillings, executive director of the West End United Way, extended praise to a number of agencies for their active participation this year in making numerous appearances before new employee groups hearing about the United Way for the first time. He said, "This method, utilized in conjunction with a loaned executive, has been producing 'instant' success in obtaining more firms on employee withholding plans."

A mid-point report luncheon will be held at noon Friday at La Villa Guasti and will be an "All Saints Day Celebration". Margaret Stewart is in charge of arrangements.

R. Hughes to work on sales

Russell Hughes of San Dimas has been appointed vice-president in charge of sales for Inspiration City, the Christian retirement center nearing completion on the corner of Cypress Street and Valley Center Ave. in San Dimas.

He speaks of his new responsibilities with enthusiasm. "This is a tremendous opportunity to show elderly people a new way of life," he says. "One that will enrich their last years, while providing the security and care they need."

Hughes and his wife Sally have four children, John, 18, James, 16, Richard, 13 and Debbie, 12. The family participates in activities at Valley Community Drive-In Church. He is a deacon on the church board and has served as treasurer this year. He and Sally both sing in the church choir.

The Hughes family moved to San Dimas five years ago from Grove City, Pennsylvania, where Russ served on the city council as well as the parks and recreation commission. He is a past president of the Jr. Chamber of Commerce and was elected man of the year by the Jaycees in Grove City.

A square dancing enthusiast, he wants to help provide fun and good times for the residents of the retirement center within the limits of their capacity. "Just because you have a few years behind you," he says, "doesn't mean life has to be dull and listless. Life is too short to be unhappy for even one day."

Hughes worked many years as cubmaster and instructor of cubmasters for the Boy Scouts of America and finds his new duties a delightful contrast to that organization's activities. "The true goal of any community organization," he feels, "is the betterment in the life of the people involved, and the increased participation of every person in the life of the community."

"In Inspiration City, as in all the other groups I've been active in," he continued, "the well being of the individual resident is of most importance to me. I want our slogan 'We Care' to mean something to our elderly friends. I want them to know by personal experience how much we really do care for them."

State drops speed limit

A new speed limit is being posted on 16th Street in Upland, according to John Chaudoin, traffic engineer for the California Department of Transportation (CALTRANS). The speed limit, said Chaudoin, is being dropped from 55 miles per hour to 45 from Mountain Avenue to just west of Wilson Avenue, a distance of about a mile. The speed limit change was requested by the city of Upland as a result of recent residential development in that area.

Health News...

"FOOT-DROPPED" HINT REQUIRES QUICK STEP

By DR. W. P. HELZER, D.C.

Your legs and feet propel you through life and without their use, it's obvious you're not going to get far. What is meant by the term "foot drop?" "Foot drop" is sort of a medical slang used to describe the condition a person experiences when he or she doesn't feel secure in his steps.

Dr. W. P. Helzer, D.C.

People can actually lose confidence in their legs and feet. And it's a very real and urgent problem. You can only imagine the concern of an individual who depends on the constant, daily use of the legs, such as a housewife or a workingman.

You've read, I'm sure, of the great lengths people will go to avoid amputation of a leg or foot. When one loses the function of one or the other, the consequences are as serious, if not more.

The leg and foot problems we are discussing here are generally related to degenerative diseases. And don't let that word, "degenerative" mislead you. These are not only problems of the elderly. As a matter of fact, they usually start cropping up in the late 20's and early 30's, especially among women.

The symptoms of lower back disc degeneration are casual at first: numbness in the legs, tingling sensations, a limb that's quick to "go to sleep."

Then the problem begins to more seriously manifest itself. There are shooting pains in the legs, coldness of the legs or feet and lack of feeling.

Often, when a person starts to have this type of trouble he seeks drug therapy. But this can assure only relief in the beginning. The degeneration continues until finally the patient can't find relief in drugs.

This is hardly an answer to the problem. Those symptoms — numbness, pain, tingling, etc. — should be an immediate call for accurate diagnosis and effective treatment.

We have tests that can readily show if the circulatory or nervous systems are impaired. Leg and foot problems should be investigated immediately. By its very name and nature, degenerative problems relate to time.

One of the most disheartening experiences in the world is to examine a wheelchair confined person only to find that drugs have so affected the disc tissue that the pain is no longer controlled.

(Note: Dr. Helzer maintains chiropractic offices at 108 East H Street, Ontario, telephone: 983-1711.) (C) ARS 1974

Show to feature works of faculty artists

CLAREMONT, — An exhibition of works by seven artists who recently have been appointed faculty members at The Claremont Colleges will open at Montgomery Art Center, Pomona College, on Nov. 7.

The exhibit, entitled "New Faculty," features paintings, drawings and photographs by Pomona College professors Charles Daugherty, Leland Rice and Timothy App, and paintings, ceramics and bronze sculpture by Scripps faculty members Donna Nicholas, Connie Jenkins, Craig Antrim and Lewis Cohen. The gallery show will continue through Tuesday, Nov. 26.

This exhibition of work by seven artist-teachers will provide an excellent opportunity to examine a variety of imaginative, contemporary explorations of traditional artistic concerns.

The gallery, which is open to the public from 1 to 5 p.m. daily, will hold gallery lectures every Tuesday during the show at 12:30 and 1:30 p.m., Nov. 12, 19 and 26.

America notes October Porkfest

The scene is set for America's third "October Porkfest." For when autumn's bright bounty fills the food store, it's time to select a special pork entree to put in the table spotlight and stage a convivial harvest celebration for family and friends.

These plump stuffed pork chops are a flavor-packed possibility. Each chop makes an ample serving, says Reba Staggs, home economist of the National Live Stock & Meat Board.

Sesame Stuffed Pork Chops
Make a pocket in each of 6 pork rib chops (cut 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 inches thick) by cutting into chop along the bone, parallel to surface of chop.

Slowly cook 1/4 cup chopped celery and 2 tablespoons chopped onion in 3 tablespoons butter or margarine for 5 minutes in large frying pan. Add 2 cups toasted bread cubes, 1/4 cup toasted sesame seed, 1 teaspoon sage, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Lightly stir in 1 egg beaten with 1/3 cup water. Fill pockets in chops with stuffing; lightly brown on both sides in 2 tablespoons lard or drippings; season with 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper and place in 13 x 9-inch baking dish or pan. Cover securely with foil and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Uncover and bake 30 minutes longer or until done. 6 servings.

Stir flavor, nutrition into this chowder

Chowders are quick to put together and make ideal meals for family and friends during chilly fall days. Stir flavor and nutrition into a chowder made of enriched egg noodles, cream of mushroom soup and minced clams. Serve with bran muffins, celery salad and baked apples.

Egg Noodle
Clam Chowder
(Makes about 3 1/2 quarts or 10 servings)
8 ounces fine egg noodles (about 4 cups)
Salt
3 quarts boiling water
4 slices bacon
1 cup coarsely chopped onion
1/4 cup coarsely chopped celery
1/2 cup coarsely chopped carrots
6 cups milk
2 cans (10 1/2 ounces each) condensed cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
1 bottle (8 ounces) clam broth
1/4 teaspoon thyme leaves, crushed
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
2 cans (8 ounces each) minced clams, undrained
Cooked bacon, crumbled, optional

Gradually add noodles and 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Meanwhile, in a 5-quart saucepot or Dutch oven, fry bacon until crisp. Drain on paper towels and set aside. Sauté onion, celery and carrots in drippings over medium heat until onion is tender, about 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Crumble bacon and stir into onion mixture. Add milk, mushroom soup, clam broth, 4 teaspoons salt, thyme and white pepper. Heat until hot, stirring frequently. Stir in cooked noodles and undrained clams. Cook until soup mixture is heated through. Do not allow to boil. Garnish with additional bacon, if desired. (To Reheat Noodle Clam Chowder: Heat over medium heat, adding milk, clam broth or water as necessary to achieve desired consistency. Stir frequently.)

Up to 85 per cent of epilepsy patients can have their seizures controlled by proper medication, but because of fear, apathy, neglect, and lack of knowledge only one in five is getting the care and medical supervision he or she needs.
